STIKEEN RIVER JOURNAL

Help Me, Oh King!

The Court Jester, in an effort to shield the King from the just wrath of the untutored savage (caused by His Majesty's effort to imbibe all the spirituous liquor in town and thus compel obedience to the law prohibiting the giving of liquor to an Indian), has caused the report to circulate, among the subjects of the King, that the engraving which appeared in the last issue of the great illustrated weekly was a true likeness of Prince Joe and not of the King. Wherefore the savage has started for the scalp of our beloved Prince.

WHAT THEY SAY.

A FEW EXTRACTS FROM LEADING PAPERS REGARDING THE "GRAFTERS."

The Roseburg Review of March 27th publishes a column article headed "Still on his trail," containing extracts from the Journal about Fred Page-Tustin.

The newspapers of Alaska, especially the Alaskan Miner, Douglas Island News and the Stikeen River Journal, are up in arms against the Congress of the United States, Governor Brady and the outside world in general.

"No taxation without representation" that wonderful old battle cry of the Revolution, is to be taken up by the citizens of Uncle Sam's golden north land. They will keep at it until they get what they have long demanded, a representative in Congress. The outside will hear more than ever this year from the cold territory, and the chances of making an impression will be better.

Alaska is not satisfied with the taxation law, as the following paragraph from one of the Northern papers testifies: "Residents of Alaska, instead of being taxed, should be paid a premium for undergoing the hardships incident to the settlement and development of new country. Tax capital in Alaska and it is driven away. Deprived of capital Alaska has no need for any one—missionaries excepted."

Governor Brady's actions at Washington City come in for considerable criticism and the head of government affairs up north is having some abuse heaped on his head. The papers take exception to the manner in which he denied the insult placed on the women by Rev. Wilbur F. Crafts when Crafts and Brady appeared before the committee at Washington City. Brady denied Crafts' statement. The Alaskan Miner says he should have thrashed him, or tried to at least, on the spot. The following editorial paragraphs also speak of the Governor: The Alaska Chamber of Commerce accredited Governor Brady to Washington City to further the Carter Bill as amended by that body. The citizens sent him $250 towards defraying expenses in response to his request. Not a word has been received from him as to the condition of legislation, nor in acknowledgment of the money sent. Alaska will never succeed in getting wise legislation until we are represented in Congress by a man who, in addition to other qualifications, is in a position to sustain a social as well as official dignity. Such a one will make an impress upon members of Congress, and the effect of one good speech, which would show Alaska as she is, not as she is represented to be, would be electrical in its effect.—Seattle Times.

The Stikeen River Journal, the only newspaper published at Fort Wrangel Alaska, is camping on the trail of United States Commissioner Fred Page-Tustin, late of Roseburg, and for many years a resident of Pendleton. It accuses him of various irregularities, and asserts that things are getting warm for the Judge there.—La Grande, Ore., Chronicle.

A Case of "Graft"

Last week J. Magnusson master of the schooner Alpha, ran foul of the notorious Prince Joe, and was compelled to pay tribute for a coastwise clearance. A representative of the Journal called on Mr. Magnusson and found the usually jolly tar in a frame of mind bordering on "fighting mad." The Captain of the Alpha claimed that he had been in command of various ships for nearly twenty years, and during that time had visited many ports in the United States, and foreign countries and was very familiar with the Custom House rules and regulations. He claimed that in his long experience he had never been refused the right to make out his own customs papers until he came to Wrangel. For some time Capt. Magnusson has been fishing at the narrows, and having finished his season's work he desired to go to Seattle, and accordingly called upon the 2x4 collector at Wrangel for a coastwise clearance. He claims that Collector Arment refused him the privilege of making out his own papers and compelled him to patronize the customs broker who has an office in the custom house. The tribute was paid under protest. Capt. Magnusson has made affidavit of the facts and forwarded it to the Secretary of the Treasury at Washington. After hearing the above story, the Journal man approached the purser of one of the Pacific Coast Steamship Co's boats and asked whether he, too, was compelled to pay tribute to the "grafter." The purser informed him it was the right of every ship to make out its own papers and knowing this the "grafter" never dared to extort a fee from regular liners.

Stark Mad.

Last week one of our prominent citizens was placed under arrest by an upstart law student, who is laboring under the delusion that he is a United States official. The offense charged, was, that the party arrested had drunk too freely of Bruno Grief's brand of mineral water. Deputy Marshall Grant ordered the citizen released as soon as the matter was brought to his attention.

Expressions of sympathy are heard on all sides for the young man, who, in a mad effort to jump from a patent medicine vender to a corporation attorney in the short space of a few weeks, has become mentally unbalanced. It is probable that an investigation will be held soon to determine whether the "crazy" lawyer should be confined in a lunatic asylum.

Opposed To Fees.

Governor Brady was a passenger north-bound on the Cottage City this week. In an interview with a Journal man the Governor stated, among other things—that he is heartily opposed to the fee system; and when the civil code passes Congress, it will carry a provision abolishing the payment of fees of any kind to the Court Commissioners. Fees—said the Governor—are the foundation of corruption among government officials, and give rise to much complaint on the part of all the citizens of Alaska.

Railroad To Teslin.

Another Yukon railroad enterprise is on the carpet. A petition has just been presented to the Dominion parliament from Messrs. McKenzie, Mann, & Co., the promoters of the Yukon Railway scheme which the Canadian Senate last winter vetoed, asking for incorporation as the Canadian Yukon Railway Company. This company proposes to build a line from a port in British Columbia to the Stikeen River, thence to Dawson, Lake Teslin, also a branch line from the head of the Lynn Canal to Dawson. It is stated that the Dominion government will bring down a substantial money subsidy to aid the successful outcome of the new project. It will take the place of the Yukon bill of last session, and is designed to provide an all Canadian route to the Yukon territory.

Smugglers made Bold.

A large consignment of whiskey was landed in Wrangel this week, the smugglers—as usual—having no trouble in avoiding the customs inspectors. The persons engaged in smuggling are well aware of the fact that the inspectors at this point are very inefficient and, as a consequence, little or no precaution is taken to avoid them. Inspectors who don't know a schooner from a sloop and who put in their working hours patrolling a beat along Front Street, are not very apt to disturb those engaged in landing contraband goods in Alaska.

Reid and Sylvester are now prepared to furnish patrons with the famous Klawack Clam Juice, both wholesale and retail, guaranteed to make the old grow young.

SATURDAY, APRIL 8 1899.

THE people of Wrangel are praying for the day to come when Tustin and Arment will be retired to private life. They will not have to wait much longer.

Our citizens should be awake to the fact that great good will result in Wrangel by holding each north bound steamer in this port over night.

LAST summer Joseph A. Arment took a six months vacation without leave. He will shortly take a longer vacation with the full consent of the Government.

WE will give one years subscription to the Journal, free, to any person who will show that the custom house rules require the employment of a customs broker in any case, except where persons prefer to pay for having papers made out in preference to making them out themselves.

WHEN will Joseph A. Arment make an accounting of moneys collected by him for rent of government property? A large sum was collected from persons who pitched tents on the Government square last spring. Surely a year should be sufficient time in which to make a report and send in the money.

FROM all indications at present, the Stikeen River will cut quite a figure, this summer. Many rich locations have been made in the country surrounding Glenora and the opening of the river witness quite a rush to Wrangel.

FROM the best information obtainable, it appears that Mc. Kenzie, Mann and Co., instead of having abandoned the Stikeen-Teslin Railroad are still of the opinion that the project is not only feasible, but also practical, and are determined to bring it to a successful conclusion. The bill recently proposed in the Canadian Parliament while it does not carry a subsidy will probably be made a Government measure and have a handsome subsidy tacked on later. There are a number of railroad measures pending, which carry a subsidy, all of which are in the Eastern part of the Dominion, and it would appear to be contrary to the general run of politics for members to vote all the appropriations for improvements in the East, and leave the West without any. There is, lying to the north of the main line of the C. P. R., a vast domain which is only waiting proper transportation facilities to cause it to be opened up, and made capable of sustaining an enormous population. The next few weeks will probably witness something definite in the way of legislation which will remove the stigma from the Canadian Government as a result of their blunder of last year.

THE new criminal code for Alaska as passed by Congress, appears the more it is looked into—to be very unjust; especially as regards the merchants. The granting of licenses to saloons is a redeeming feature, in that the saloon business is made legitimate, and one source of grafting—on the part of custom house officials—is done away with. This feature is very gratifying to the people of Alaska. On the other hand, the persons who framed the bill appear to have overlooked the fact that to tax all capital invested in Alaska will surely tend to drive capital away, and retard the development of this naturally rich mineral country. The worst feature of the bill is the fact that Alaska is not given recognition to the extent of being allowed a representative in Congress. The entire principal of taxation without representation is contrary to the principles of American Government. Nowhere in Uncle Sam's domain except in Alaska, is this principle applied, and the object in applying it here is not plain. From a business standpoint, these are times that try men's souls, and to increase the burden is, heaping it on too much. The people of Alaska, and the newspapers, should take the matter in hand, and by a concerted effort, strive to accomplish some real good for this much-abused country.

THE conditions in the Custom House here, are going from bad to worse, and unless a change is made soon, serious results must follow; for sooner or later Joseph A. Arment will run foul of some one who will not submit to his "Graft." Conditions were bad enough under the regime of Drumm, Malone, and Arment, but at that time the notorious combine carried on their bunco game in an office apart from the Custom House. The fact that Arment has so far escaped criminal prosecution has emboldened him, for the "Grafting" is now carried on within the Custom House building, in direct violation of law. The law is very explicit in saying that no Customs Broker shall have an office in any Custom House, and yet this prince of law breakers not only permits a Custom Broker to have an office in the Custom House, but he has the audacity to permit the broker to live in the Custom House, even going so far as to crowd out regular employees of the Government to make room for his favorite. It is quite possible that Arment is collecting a nominal rent from the broker for use of Government property. If so, what is he doing with the money? And what commission does he get for acting as agent for the custom broker? It is strange that the Treasury Department should allow such a notorious character as Joseph A. Arment to remain in office. Secretary Gage has been advised of the facts, and will no doubt take some action very soon.

A wholesale liquor license shall only authorize the licensee to sell distilled, malt, and fermented liquors, wines, and cordials in quantities not less than one gallon, not to be drunk upon the premises where sold; and no such license shall be granted until it is satisfactorily shown that the place where it is intended to carry on such business is properly arranged for selling such liquors as merchandise. That no licensee under a barroom license shall employ, or permit to be employed, or allow any female or minor or person convicted of crime, to sell, give, furnish, or distribute any intoxicating liquor or any admixture thereof, or wine, or beer to any person or persons. And no licensee in any place shall knowingly sell or permit to be sold in his establishment any intoxicating liquor of any kind to any person under the age of twenty-one years, under the penalty upon conviction thereof, of forfeiting such license, and no person so forfeiting such license shall again be granted a license for the term of two years.

Attention is called to the fact that Fred Page-Tustin has withdrawn his advertisement from this paper. Mr. Tustin says that he is getting so little law business that he can ill afford to advertise. There is no question about it! The days of old fogies has passed! Wise men employ good lawyers.

The Cottage City arrived from below Monday afternoon, and through the efforts of some of our leading citizens was induced to remain over till Tuesday morning, thus giving the passengers an opportunity to see the town and incidentally spend a little money. If the proper influence could be brought to bear in every case where steamers reach here from below in the afternoon, they could be held, and and much good would result to Wrangel.

Patronize the Postoffice News stand when you want stationary, candy, cigars and tobacco. All the leading papers and magazines always on hand.

The owners of the steamer Glenora are fixing her up for a run to Victoria, where she will be fitted out with new machinery and boiler after which she will go to St. Michaels for use on the Yukon.

There is still need of funds, and it is to be hoped that the many citizens of Wrangel will continue their liberality.

In 1888 my wife went East and was attacked with rheumatism. She received no relief until she tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Since that time we have never been without it. It is a peculiar circumstance that there has been no south bound mail for ten days. This is an unusual circumstance, due to the wreck of the Topeka and the fact that all mail boats were below at the time it happened.

Our motto at the Blue Front: "Strive to please." Lunches prepared to suit. Open until midnight.

There is no later news from the Topeka than that published last week. The Cottage City should be down to day with full particulars.

From Manilla.

The following was taken from a letter from Major Theodore Sternberg, Paymaster United States Volunteers, dated Manilla, January 22nd., 1899:

"I wish you would call the attention of the President and Secretary of War to this:

"There are no less than 10 per cent of the volunteers who honestly wish to remain in these islands and make their homes here and engage in agriculture, lumbering and mining. From every point of vantage this should be encouraged unless America means to haul down its flag and sneak home. The time will come when every man will recognize the value of these islands.

"Take but one item, cattle. They thrive here; it is the finest stock country I ever saw. The Orient can be supplied with beef from here. Now, these soldiers wish to be discharged here with travel pay. This will be their capital. Those who are in earnest will and can do anything to prove it. But they would be willing to serve out a two years' service by transfer to the regular army. They would, many of them, prefer to be mustered out here with nothing rather than be compelled to go to the states to be mustered out.

"There are many regular soldiers enlisted here under order forty. These men think they should be paid travel if they intend settling on these islands. Now, all of this is based upon the idea that the United States will retain some sort of interest in these islands. Knowing the value of the pioneer I say deliberately that each of these plain soldiers, young, vigorous and used to the climate, by remaining here, will be of inestimable value to our country. The only way to Americanize these islands is the example of American pioneers engaged in making homes for themselves.

"There are no healthier people than the English and Scotch who have lived here for many years. At all events, the Government has here now the cream of American young manhood who are anxious to try the thing.

"I know the regulars as a rule don't want to hold these islands, because they prefer stations in the States. I know that the majority are homesick, and so color their opinions. But I had rather die here than see the flag come down, and if I was twenty years younger I would make my home on a farm here."

Remember.

Wrangel Studio is the place to get Alaska views. A fine selection of Wrangel during the great boom of 1898. Remember I will desert Wrangel soon and if there is any one that has a bill to present I will be pleased to settle it. O. D. Goetze.

The Hunt Grocery Co. have moved into their new quarters in the Diehl Block, where they will welcome their friends and customers.

Why don't the Canadians steal the town of Wrangel? They appear to be envious to steal a slice of American Territory, and the people of that town are reported to be anxious to be annexed to Canada.—Roseburg, Oregon, Plaindealer.

W. G. Thomas, formally Deputy Marshall at Wrangel, returned from Washington, Thursday, on the Farallon. Mr. Thomas will remain in Wrangel a few days, when he will leave for Juneau to be gone for a few weeks.
